English	Weslandia by Paul Fleischman: Children will learn about what it takes to build a civilization from scratch like the character Wesley. They will write a character description, review, story retelling, non-chronological report published as a brochure. Greek mythology will be explored in text 'Theseus and the Minotaur' The children will discover myths and legends. They will write information about the Greek Gods. Rainforest: In the second half of the term the children will develop their ability to combine factual and fictional writing about the Rainforest using extracts from fiction and non-fiction texts. They will also read and write poetry based on The Amazon Rainforest and learn to perform their own poetry.	Dragons: This theme will be explored in several contexts. The class will be reading the story 'How to Train Your Dragon.' The children will discover myths and legends about dragons, those that play a part in Chinese culture and Viking dragon boats. They will also look at dragon themed poetry. They will write an information and explanation text about the celebrations for Chinese New Year. Roald Dahl (specifically at the text 'George's Marvellous Medicine'): The children will develop their understanding of conjunctions, possessive apostrophes, speech punctuation and homophones. The children will further develop their editing, drafting and performance skills.	Hidden Figures by Margot Lee Shetterly: Children learn about the achievements and determination of these four iconic women at key moments in American and world history. This provides the inspiring context for children to write for a range of purposes and for different formal and informal contexts. Science fiction genre: They will work on developing their characters and settings and use these in their own science fiction stories. They will read several forms of poetry and use these to write their own calligrams. They will use fronted adverbials, the possessive apostrophe for singular and plural nouns and work on prefixes and suffixes in spelling.
